

CAVALRY CLASHES GROW IN VIOLENCE ALONG LINE

Continued from Page One from reinforcements from Belgium, the Germans attacked all along the Arras line and the Allies were compelled to fall back from Lens and Douai, fighting stubbornly all the while. The Germans occupied Bethune and sent troops into Lille. The invaders took possession of the houses, firing on the French from the roofs and windows.

Aisne is now complete. The Germans have evacuated most of their important trenches in the "bloody angle" formed by the confluence of the Aisne and Oise. In some of these works the English found a number of German dead—victims of typhoid fever and dysentery. Two of the heaviest German cannon, resting on elaborate cement foundations, had been left behind in the abandoned stone quarries.

HAND OF THE WANDAL DESCRIBED IN DIARY OF TEUTON OFFICER

France, "to Be Our Tomb," Officer Says, and Men Pillaged, Plundered and Slew as They Went.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Among documents recently taken from the Germans is a notebook belonging to an officer in the 17th Infantry of the 12th Saxon corps. The memorandum commences on August 9 and continues to the end of September.

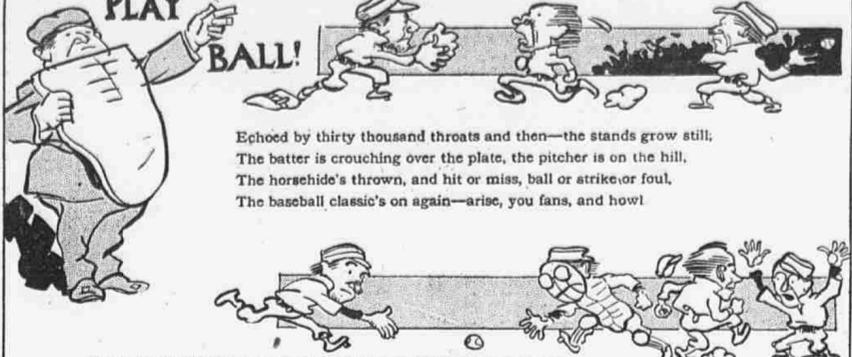

TOWNS IN BOSNIA FALL BEFORE RUSH OF MONTENEGRINS

Austrians Suffer Heavy Losses as Invading Forces Make Steady Advance Toward Sarajevo.

CETTINJE, Oct. 9. Montenegro troops are sweeping away all opposition, and are daily approaching nearer Sarajevo, the Bosnian capital, says an official announcement issued by the Montenegrin War Office today.

Two little words ring out today that oft have rung before, That drive from a hundred million minds all thought of work or war, Two words that break the Mackmen's leash and send them forth to maul, That start the charge of Stallings' Braves—hark to the Ump's

Howl—but howl like sportsmen; howl at a sportsman's finest game That gives to the team that wins it fair that which it earns of fame; Root, you fans of the Clan of Mack, and you of the Beany-Grad, Root for the team you like the best—tomorrow you may be sad.

POINCARÉ, "STRONG MAN OF THE ELYSEE," ROSE TO WAR'S NEEDS

Most Popular Executive of France Since MacMahon, He Has Had Long Training in Diplomacy.

Napoleon prophesied at St. Helena that in 100 years Europe would be either all Cossack or all republican, says the New York Evening Post. Today, with all Europe, as well as the foremost nation in the Orient, arrayed against the Germanic nations, the personality of the chief executive of the great republic which has evolved from the empire that Bonaparte himself created and then lost is of prime interest.

ANTWERP IN FLAMES AS MERCILESS RAIN OF SHOT CONTINUES

Fire Breaks Out in Suburbs as German Bombardment of Forts Increases in Violence.

OSTEND, Oct. 9. German shells have set fire to Antwerp, according to reports received here early today. The bombardment that began Thursday morning continues with terrific effect, but the gunners defending the Belgian stronghold are replying vigorously. Flames broke out last night in parts of the city lying between the Palace of Justice and the south railroad station, but emergency fire corps co-operating with the regular fire department kept them under control.

GERMANS FALL BACK BEFORE CZAR'S ARMY ON PRUSSIAN BORDER

Furious Fighting in Wirbalen Region Results in Heavy Losses—Berlin Reports Success Along the Niemen.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 9. An official communication issued from general headquarters says: "The fighting on the east Prussian frontier continues with the same ferocity. In spite of German reinforcements, all their attacks in the region of Wirbalen and Philippoff have been repulsed with great losses. By a night assault the Russian troops have captured the village of Kamenka, near Bakalargowo. In the forest of Maassalichina, west of Ratchka, our troops in a night attack surrounded a German detachment, which was partly exterminated, the others being dispersed, abandoning their rapid firers." (These places are all on the Russo-East Prussian frontier and indicate fighting along a 40-mile front.)

CZAR'S NEW ARMY MARCHES ON THORN, ON GERMAN SOIL

Great Stronghold Is Key to Posen and Berlin—Russians Within 3 Miles of Cracow—Przemysl Reported Fallen.

WARSAW, Oct. 9.—The Russian center, mobilized at Warsaw, has started forward on the first lap of its march to Berlin. War Office advices today said that this army, including the pick of the Czar's forces, is now entering action in the territory around Wloclawek, around the Vistula and 30 miles from Thorn.

HAY RICK BEACON FOR NIGHT ATTACK ON BRITISH LINER

Member of General French's Staff Describes Operations Along Aisne—One Peaceful Day at Front.

LONDON, Oct. 9. Many incidents are detailed in the continuation of the account of an eye-witness of the battle of the Aisne, which is written by a member of General Sir John French's staff and released periodically by the official war information bureau. This one says: "On September 30, one of our airmen succeeded in dropping nine bombs, some of which fell in the midst of railway rolling stock, which the enemy had collected on the line near Laon, inside the angle formed by the two lines of the battle front."

TRUE STORIES OF SUDDEN WEALTH IN OIL FIELDS

Luke Horton, of Texas, Wanted to Buy Diamonds by the Quart. Texas oil well drillers are fond of telling the story of Luke Horton, of Wichita County. When the discovery well came in on Luke's place it came in spouting a thousand barrels a day. Luke, who happened to be at the rig, stood up with the drillers and watched the cut up for a few minutes and he complained: "You have spoiled two acres of my pasture."

OBSTACLES FOR POINCARÉ

For some time before he became Premier the Foreign Office had made grave errors in diplomacy. Words had been spoken publicly which threatened the Entente Cordiale. The country was indignant; one might say that the country was scared. When the Caillaux Cabinet fell Raymond Poincaré was chosen Premier and given instructions to establish peaceful relations and to re-establish the French foreign policy on a firm foundation.

HER CONGRATULATIONS

An Evanston lady was telling me the other day about a rather lubricious aunt who seemed to see everything through spectacles. Her greatest pleasure in life was in attending funerals, and in case of a friend's illness she would console the patient with gloomy forebodings and with tales of others who had met untimely deaths through similar afflictions.

WOMAN HAS LINCOLN'S VIOLIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Jesse Van Dyne, of Roseland, N. J., is the owner of a violin which she says was once the property of Abraham Lincoln and on which the martyr-President used to play. It was bequeathed to her by an uncle, John Merry, of Hanover, who got it from his brother, Samuel Merry, a neighbor of Lincoln's at Springfield, Ill. Lincoln is said to have given it to Samuel Merry. Going through old effects recently Mrs. Van Dyne found the violin. It is badly damaged, but she is having it repaired. If possible, it may again give forth the airs Lincoln loved to hear.

DIES OF GRIEF OVER WIFE

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Hugh McManis, a septuagenarian, of 28 Passaic street, Paterson, died yesterday of shock and grief. A week ago yesterday his wife died. He was inconsolable. At the funeral, held last Saturday, he became ill, was put to bed when he returned home, and gradually sank until he expired.

COURT UPHOLDS $9,000,000 WILL

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The will of William Rankin, of Grand Rapids, of an estate of $9,000,000, was upheld yesterday in a decision by Judge William P. Martin. The will, which was made in 1905, left to charitable uses $2,500,000 in part to the University of Michigan. The largest individual bequest, $100,000, is to Lafayette College. Among the private bequests was $50,000 to Miss Kathryn Tully, private secretary to Senator Hanna, who is now the wife of Morris Lynch, also a former employee, to whom he left
